Jacobetti Wants State To Elect Highway Boss

LANSING (AP) — An Upper Peninsula legislator who has disagreed repeatedly with the State Highway Commission, wants to go back to the elective system of picking a highway commissioner.

Rep. Dominic Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, one of the chief combatants in the highway sign controversy, introduced a resolution Thursday to amend the constitution to eliminate the appointive four-member Highway Commission provided for in the new Constitution.

Jacobetti wants to go back to the elected director — a position that legally has been out of existence less than a year.

Wants U. P. Voice
"Under the elective system," Jacobetti said, "the commissioner is more responsive to the needs of the people. Under the present system (the highway director) answers to a four member commission appointed by the governor."

Jacobetti complained that Gov. George Romney has appointed four "downstaters" to the commission. "This action certainly was a 'short range' blow to the Upper Peninsula," he added.

"Under the elective system," he said, "the people of the U.P. will have a voice in future highway programs such as a four-lane highway from the Mackinac Bridge to Ironwood, scenic highway from Detour to Munising, which would follow Lake Superior, road improvements — such as M 35 from Rock to Negaunee — and many other road improvements needed."

Feud Continues
Jacobetti has been feuding with the commission — and before that with elected commissioner John Mackie — over the department's attempts to remove signs from highway rights of way.

The department said it faces loss of federal funds if it fails to remove the signs — many of which still stand in the U.P. The only time money was withheld, Jacobetti said, was when the U.S. Bureau of Roads was asked by the department to stop payment.

The charge has been denied by Highway Director Howard Hill.

Jacobetti also opposed a sign bill that was the center of a heated controversy Thursday, claiming "we don't need a bill at the present time."

He also serves on a conference committee which still has a sign bill under consideration — left over from the regular legislative session.

Senate Gets Measure:

House Unanimously Votes Bill To Refinance Bridge

LANSING (AP) — The House lowered the roadblocks and raced the Mackinac Bridge refinancing bill through Thursday — but slammed the brakes on highway billboard legislation.

Despite the 103-0 approval of the House, the toll-reducing bridge bill faces an uncertain future in the Senate today. House members said they hoped their overwhelming support might influence the Senate — which has given little indication it is favorably disposed toward the measure.

A move to discharge a House committee of consideration of the billboard bill was overwhelmingly defeated, 77-22, on the promise that the matter would be given extensive study, and on assurances that the legislation is not urgently needed.

Tax Amendment Fails
In a marathon session Thursday, held to beat today's bill passage deadline in the house of origin, a Democratic attempt to change the state constitution's prohibition against a graduated income tax failed by one vote, 73-29.

The House also approved legislation setting up staggered four-year terms for circuit judges in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Kent, Kalamazoo, and Washtenaw counties, voted to set minimum death benefits under workmen's compensation at $27 to $45 a week, approved changes in the new automobile accident claims fund, and returned to committee a bill which would have extended terms of all present township officers to Jan. 1, 1969.

Parties Agree
The bridge bill received unanimous support after Republicans and Democrats worked out an agreement on what should happen to the bridge once the bonds are paid off.

Reps. Dominic Jacobetti, D-

Negaunee, and Einar Erlandson, D-Escanaba, wanted it transferred to a separate division of the highway department. Rep. Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena, charged it would continue the present bridge authority in existence — at a cost of $300,000 a year because of duplication of services.

As finally agreed upon, the bill will allow transfer to the general supervision of the highway department, and will give all bridge employees the opportunity to transfer to civil service status in the department.

Toll Target $2
Backers are reluctant to say how soon the tolls could be reduced to the target level of $2 each way per passenger car — compared to the present charge of $3.75.

It could be as early as this fall — if a number of important conditions are met, backers said. They include:

— Passage by the Senate, with immediate effect.

— An additional $5 million in a sinking fund which is kept to guarantee interest payments to holders of the $99.8 million in revenue bonds still outstanding, or — Agreement by bonding attorneys that, since the full faith and credit of the state is behind the bonds, tolls may be reduced.

Tolls currently must be kept at a level high enough to guarantee bond holders a set income from the bonds.

If it receives immediate effect, the state could start recouping the revenue bonds "as soon as the bill becomes law," Jacobetti said. "But it would all depend on the market."

"The current bonds are now paying 4 and 5.5 per cent interest; but we think the state can get a rate of 3.75 per cent if we replace these revenue bonds with bonds backed by the full faith and credit of the state," he added.

Paratroopers Use Tear Gas In Viet Attack

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. paratroopers launched a big new operation on the fringe of the Viet Cong's "D" zone today and used non-lethal tear gas, a U.S. military spokesman said.

No further details were immediately available on the gas attack, but the spokesman said the American troops had made "significant contact" with the Viet Cong.

In a major change of policy, the field commander had been authorized before the operation to use nonlethal tear gas if he deemed it necessary. The object was to flush out the Viet Cong without wounding or killing non-combatants.

Bombers Hit Jungle
Thousands of American troops combed a densely jungled area about 30 miles north of Saigon. Australian forces supported the operation.

B52 bombers from Guam hammered the area twice before the U.S. ground offensive. The paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade landed by helicopter and moved into the Viet Cong area in convoys along Highway 13, near the district capital of Ben Cat.

The spokesman gave no details on the fighting, but it was believed to have been heavy.

A personnel carrier hit a Viet Cong mine and overturned. Casualties were reported moderate.

No Air Losses
The Americans also drew sniper fire as the convoy moved deeper into guerrilla territory.

U.S. spotter planes circling the skies following the B52 raids drew enemy fire, but there was no indication that any of the planes were shot down.

The operation was taking place in the same area where paratroopers of the 173rd completed a giant two-week sweep last week — the longest operation involving U.S. troops of the war.

The D Zone is a huge jungle area which the Viet Cong has dominated for years. It has been a frequent target of U.S. bombers, and American troops have been nibbling at its fringes repeatedly in recent months, looking for the Viet Cong and destroying their installations and stores.

Approves Gas Use
Informed sources said the authorization to use tear gas in the operation was given by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, because it was felt that nonlethal gas was the most humane weapon that could be used in certain situations the paratroopers probably would encounter.

The paratroopers were equipped with tear-gas grenade canisters. They also had four "Mighty Mite" blower machines that can force tear gas or smoke into underground shelters.

The use of tear gas in Viet Nam became a controversial issue after it was reported in March that nonlethal gas had been used experimentally in field operations.

Democrats Skeptical
"We'll try again next week," said Majority Leader J. Bob Traxler, Bay City.

Other Democrats were skeptical, however. Some said they did not expect the leadership to bring up the question again in the fall session. Others said they expected Republican support to evaporate if it appeared that the resolution really had a chance to pass.

The resolution would have asked voters whether they wanted the income tax section of the 1963 state constitution voided. That section reads: "No income tax graduated as to rate or base shall be imposed by the state or any of its subdivisions."

Amendment Bid Fails
Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, backed by Rep. Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena, tried to amend the resolution — changing from negative wording to a positive statement that the state may be permitted to levy either a graduated or flat-rate income tax.

At least three Republicans said before the session they would vote for the positively worded resolution — giving Democrats more than enough votes for passage. The amendment was ruled out of order by Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, however.

Democrats have repeatedly argued that the constitutional change is necessary before the state can start on an equitable program of fiscal reform.

Allen said later he had been convinced that the resolution was not needed now but that he would vote with the Democrats again in the 1966 session. The other Republican vote came from Rep. Roy Spencer of Attica.

Graduated Income Amendment Fails

LANSING (AP) — The heavily patched fiscal reform question fell apart in the House again Thursday — but Democrats said today they would try to put it together again.

Democrats — with the assistance of two Republican "defectors" — came within one vote of the 74 needed to pass the constitutional amendment resolution which would have put the question of a graduated income tax to a popular vote.

A two-thirds majority — or 74 votes — are needed to pass a constitutional amendment resolution. Democrats have 73 House members with one out ill.

Scour Capitol
They lost on two ballots in a comedy of errors that saw Democratic House members scouring the Capitol for the one vote they still needed — that of Rep. Edward Michalski, D-Detroit. Michalski said he was in the Senate checking on the progress of a "Pulaski Day" resolution he had introduced.

By the time the second ballot was cast, Republicans had managed to talk Rep. Lester Allen, R-Ithaca, out of casting his lot with the opposition.

Allen said later he had been convinced that the resolution was not needed now but that he would vote with the Democrats again in the 1966 session. The other Republican vote came from Rep. Roy Spencer of Attica.

Doctors Report Chief Executive 'Resting Well'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Surgeons removed President Johnson's gall bladder today in a "completely successful" operation. They also found and removed a kidney stone.

The President was reported "resting well" after the two hours and 15 minutes of surgery at Bethesda Naval Hospital. Mrs. Johnson and their daughter Luci were at the hospital.

White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said the President's family physician, Dr. James Cain, had reported that "everything went — in his words — beautifully and as expected."

The surgery began at 7 a.m. EDT and ended at 9:15 a.m. EDT. Moyers gave the first report on the completion of the operation at 9:25 a.m. EDT to reporters assembled in the hospital auditorium.

Johnson remained in the operating room immediately after the surgery. He was to be moved to a third floor suite later to recuperate for the next 10 to 14 days. Mrs. Johnson had a room across the hall.

Remove Gall Stone
In his initial announcement, Moyers said the surgeons found a gall stone when they removed his gall bladder and also located and removed a kidney stone from the ureter, a tube connecting the bladder and kidney.

There had been no advance word that the President was suffering from a kidney stone. He has a record of kidney stones, however, and the surgeons had stated they would explore other nearby organs.

Doctors said earlier it was possible the President might be able to get out of bed briefly late this afternoon and certainly by Saturday.

At 9:28 a.m. EDT, White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers made this announcement:

"The President underwent surgery at 7 a.m. The surgery was completed at about 9:15 a.m. The gall bladder was removed and found to contain a stone. A stone was also located in the ureter and removed. The operation was a complete success."

Find Kidney Stone
The presence of a stone in the ureter indicated that the doctors found a kidney stone as well as a gall stone. The ureter is a tube leading from the kidney.

The President underwent treatment for removal of a kidney stone by manipulation in 1948 and had one removed by surgery in 1955. But he had no record of gall bladder trouble before an attack on Sept. 7.

Today's operation was performed by Dr. George A. Halenbeck, a surgeon from the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn. He was assisted by a large team of surgeons and consulting specialists.

Mrs. Johnson and her daughter Luci, 18, remained in their hospital suite during the surgery. Moyers said they were informed immediately of the successful conclusion of the operation.

Moyers still was short on details as to how long it would be before Johnson would come out of the anesthesia.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said Johnson went into the operating room in the same "very good spirits" he exhibited Thursday night. Humphrey made the statement after receiving a telephone report from Moyers shortly before leaving for his office.

Free X-Rays

Indonesia Youths Burn Red Offices

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — thousands of Indonesian youths, shouting "Long live America," today stormed the headquarters of Indonesia's powerful Communist party (PKI) and burned it to the ground.

The mob, mostly Moslems, stormed the building shouting "Kill Aidi!" (D. N. Aidi, leader of the PKI) and "Dissolve PKI."

Aidi's whereabouts since last Friday's attempt to overthrow President Sukarno were unknown.

After setting fire to the Communist headquarters, the youths paraded through the streets of Jakarta to the headquarters of the government-sponsored national front organizations. On the way, they stopped cars and plastered windshields with signs reading "crush PKI." Demonstrators waved and shook hands with army soldiers who passed by in a truck.

It was the army which broke the back of the coup led by Lt. Col. Untung, a palace guard officer who masterminded the "30th of September movement" to overthrow Sukarno and replace his government with a leftist "revolutionary council."

The army command here accused the youth wing of the PKI of murdering six generals and a lieutenant in the early stages of the coup attempt. The army has launched a massive anti-Communist campaign, rounding up scores of PKI members and seizing large quantities of weapons, some bearing Communist Chinese markings.

Diplomatic reports reaching London from Asia today said Communist China played an important and perhaps key role in the anti-Sukarno uprising. These reports said Peking urged the PKI to seize power in the confusion surrounding the political upheaval.

Army troops did not interfere with the demonstrators, but streets leading to PKI headquarters were cordoned off.

Truck loads of demonstrators passed later in front of the U.S. embassy on the same street shouting "Long live America."

The show which has long been a fall favorite in Delta County includes four outstanding barber shop quartets from the midwest, as well as the appearance of the local chorus, under the direction of Paul Cowen.

Cowen is the music director in the Gladstone High School, and also is the band director for the Escanaba municipal band.

Guest quartets appearing on this year's show include the Varieties from Hinsdale, Ill., who were Illinois District Champions and also International Semi-Finalists in 1963-64. Also appearing are the Impostors of Chicago, Illinois District Champions in 1962, International Finalists in 1963, and International Medalists in 1964 and 1965.

From Wisconsin comes the Elfeison Brothers of Wausau, four brothers who have traveled more than 20,000 miles in two years, just so that they could have their rehearsals. And from neighboring Marinette-Menominee, the "What Four," one of the fastest moving quartets in the Land O' Lakes District.

The Bay de Noc Chapter has dedicated this year's show to two of their most loyal members who have been sidelined by illness, L. A. "Dan" Danielson, charter member of the chapter, and John Gray, who is the Area Counselor of the 8th District in the Land O' Lakes.

The chorus has made many appearances in Escanaba, Gladstone, Rapid River and also has made guest appearances at the VA hospital in Iron Mountain, the Marquette State Prison, the Delta Nursing Home, the Delta Medicare Center, and the Bishop Noa Home.

The projects which the local chapter supports financially include music scholarships to the local high schools, which are presented annually. They also purchased equipment for the Delta County Oral-Deaf program under the direction of Paul Vardigan, and a Logopedic Center directed by Miss Leona Dougherty.

Council Requests Arrest Four Funds For UPCAP For Larceny

The Escanaba City Council is joining in pleas to Sargent Shriver, director of the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity, Washington, to release federal funds and relieve the pinch on the operating cash for the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress.

UPCAP is an instrument of the federal government's War on Poverty, Dr. E. V. Bowden is its executive director, and the headquarters are in Escanaba.

The agency's operating budget is about $50,000. The funds are being withheld by the federal government for technical assistance projects because UPCAP's structure does not include all of the necessary representative elements.

The Escanaba City Council approved a motion to telegraph Shriver to release funds to UPCAP after a discussion in which Councilman Harold Vanlerberghe told of his experience with the SBA committee through UPCAP.

Vanlerberghe said that 30 applications for Small Business Administration loans have been made and five have been approved and the applicants have received $95,000. The Public Affairs committee of the County Board of Supervisors has also urged funds for UPCAP.

The Council received with expressions of appreciation a gift of two large flags, complete with poles and standards, from the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Wilfred Doucette, Auxiliary president, and Mrs. John Anzalone, Americanism chairman. One flag will go to the Municipal Court and the other will remain in the Council chambers.

In other business the Council:

Mrs. Alice Brown left for her home in Phoenix, Ariz., after spending the summer months in Limestone.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Finlan and daughter returned to Milwaukee following a week's visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Hoy, Flint, are vacationing at their cabin here.

Tuberculin skin testing for all grades of Trenary School will be held Monday, Oct. 11, at 1 p. m.

Appointed Leslie Rose to the Civil Service Commission to fill a vacancy caused by the death of R. E. Allingham; adopted a resolution opposing a ruling of the Federal Communications Commission imposing restrictions on community TV antenna systems; and named Bob Holt and Frank Bourke delegates to the Municipal Employees Retirement System annual meeting.

Offer Airport
Adopted a resolution of support for the continuance of the "aerial bridge" airline flight across Lake Michigan, addressed to the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Approved a motion which will, upon a request from the County Board of Supervisors, indicate the willingness of the City of Escanaba to transfer the municipal airport to county ownership for a nominal sum of $1. The motion was made by Councilman H. George Nelson, who is a member of a special airport study committee.

Mayor George Rusch noted that "we are talking about an investment of more than $1,000,000" for the development of the airport, and that the willingness of the city to cooperate in the plan is based on the convictions that it will be of benefit to all of the people of the Delta County area.

The Council authorized the manager to purchase, 1,400 feet of pipe at a cost of $846 from the Wade Corp., for use in de-watering sewer jobs and other public works projects where needed. The pipe is used and the price is favorable, the manager said.

Three women and a man, of Flint, were to be arraigned in Manistique today on charges of larceny in connection with the alleged theft of clothing from the McNamara Antique and Gift Shop in Manistique Thursday morning.

They were arrested by State Police of the Gladstone post on Highway U. S. 2-41 at Masonville at 3:15 p. m. Thursday.

They are: Carnell Stubbs, 37, charged also with violation of his operator's license; Bethany Ashburn, 30, Wanda McCoy, 21, and Jane Smith, 29.

State Police said they will ask the Schoolcraft County prosecuting attorney for a warrant charging all four with larceny from a building, which is a felony.

The officers said that in the car was clothing—all new and of name brands—valued at an estimated $1,200. Very little of the clothing would fit the persons arrested.

Jane Smith had in her personal possession one marijuana cigarette and another was found in the car. Both were hand-rolled. The possibility of a narcotics charge is being explored, officers said.

State Police reported that McNamara's shop at Manistique was missing some women's jackets. Stubbs made a purchase there and the women were also present in the store. The McNamara's informed State Police of the incident.

Later in the day a store near Harvey in Marquette County was reportedly victimized and the proprietor obtained the license number of the car, which resulted in the arrest by Gladstone State Police.

College Invites Visitation Oct. 17

Bay de Noc Community College trustees invite the public to visit the college Sunday afternoon, Oct. 17. All of the planned remodeling is now complete and the college will show it in an open house.

The Student Government will provide guides and the faculty and board members will answer questions. Major renovation completed during the past year was designed by G. Arntzen & Co., architects, and the general contractor, Erling Arntzen, was assisted by sub-contractors, including Moersch & Degnan, mechanical, and Rapid Electric. College President Richard Rinehart said "renovation and remodeling are inadequate terms. It is now possible for people to see how the building has been re-planned to convert the structure into three buildings. The Catherine Bonifas Hall, now complete, constitutes a total college instructional facility."

New facilities recently completed include a new library, administrative aide (business), laboratories, drafting and practical nursing areas, in addition to new classrooms and offices. In addition to the facilities, approximately $40,000 worth of added specialized equipment will be on display. The total cost of all re-planning and construction work to date, including a parking lot, campus lighting and sewer construction, is $184,333 and $92,762 worth of equipment, furniture and books have been acquired. These were paid from federal funds for the practical nursing, the Catherine Bonifas bequest of $100,000, other gifts and state matching funds of $129,499.82.

The open house is scheduled from 1 to 6 p. m. on Oct. 17. The faculty will serve refreshments during this period.

Briefly Told

The Escanaba Area Schools do not have representatives making calls nor do they endorse any person making calls nor do they endorse any person making calls to homes in the area, Luther Barrett, school superintendent, said today. He said that three complaints have been received by his office from residents following visits of callers who implied they represented the schools.

Waine A. Liuba, the VFW assistant field service officer, will meet with veterans in the Escanaba City Hall from 9 to 11:30 a. m. on Oct. 18.

Humphrey Gets Stand-By Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, saying he was being "kept fully informed" on the condition of President Johnson, went to work this morning as stand-by chief executive.

Humphrey left his suburban Maryland house about 8:45 a. m. after receiving the usual morning briefing and speaking by telephone to White House news secretary Bill D. Moyers.

Humphrey was barely noticed by passers-by as his limousine with a Secret Service car trailing, used a back route from the Maryland suburbs into the capital.

Before leaving his home, Humphrey told newsmen "I'm just going down to the office."

Humphrey said he intended "to stay close to the executive office today" and that he was being kept informed of developments at the hospital by members of the presidential staff.

Gulliver Pair Accused Of Bar Holdup Roles

MANISTIQUE — A couple who have operated a truck stop restaurant on U. S. 2 at Gulliver near here for a year were held in the Schoolcraft County Jail today for pickup by Detroit city police on fugitive warrants.

They are charged with complicity in the Sept. 18, 1964 armed robbery of the Lawndale Bar, 1633 Lawndale Ave., Detroit by a lone gunman.

The couple are Richard Pesci, 37, and Patricia Ann Brummit, 26. He told State Police that she was his wife, and that he was innocent of the robbery charge. He said his car was involved in the case and that he had been in court on it already.

Detroit police, who had two officers enroute to Manistique to pick up the pair, told UPI this story of the case.

David James, 26, was picked up by police and charged with the Lawndale Bar holdup and told police that Pesci and Patricia Brummit had set up the robbery and given him the gun, he used in it and that they were in the bar, posing as customers when he held up the place.

James fled after the robbery and he told police that Pesci and Patricia Brummit left later and the three met by appointment and divided up the loot. When James was arrested for the robbery he confessed and implicated the couple and they were arrested, but then James fled, and with their star witness gone, the police had to drop the case.

Recently James was arrested in New Orleans and he repeated his confession of the Lawndale Bar holdup and again implicated Pesci and his wife. The warrant for their arrest and return to Detroit to face James' accusation followed.

Rosary Society Meeting In St. George Hall

BARK RIVER—Mrs. Stanley Kwarciany, assisted by Mrs. Leo Knauf and Mrs. Ellsworth Nault, presented the program at the Monday evening meeting of St. George Rosary Society held in the parish hall.

Their program dealt with the problem of what to do with the Christmas cards, greeting cards, rosaries and other articles received throughout the year from various missions requesting contributions. It is difficult to throw them away but it is also impossible to contribute to all.

Their solution was to do Rev. Winfridherst, S. D. S. "One has no obligation under pain of sin to send a contribution or return the material. The organizations run the risk and are aware of it. One may give the materials to others, use them, or return them, the matter is optional."

A harvest dinner is planned for Sunday, Nov. 7, in the parish hall. Mrs. Joseph Grzybowski is chairman. Mrs. Ellsworth Nault is chairman of a talent show planned tentatively for the holidays.

Announcement was made of the annual Marquette Diocesan Council of Catholic Women Escanaba Deaneary Workshop which will be held Thursday, Oct. 14, at 7:30 p. m. in All Saints Parochial School in Gladstone.

Mrs. John Grzyb is chairman of the Sacred Heart Circle which functions during the month of October and Mrs. James LaVigne is chairman of St. Mary Circle which will take care of the November activities. The special prize was won by Mrs. Antone Cavadeas of Wilson. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 9.

Lunch was served at the conclusion of the business meeting by Mrs. John Grzyb and members of the Sacred Heart Circle.

45 Years Of Service:

City Honors Secretary

An Escanaba city employee for 45 years and secretary to the city manager since 1930 was honored by her fellow workers in the City Hall and by the City Council on Thursday.

She is Miss Hilda E. Olson of 219 N. 15th St.—a woman who has been closer to the center of municipal government in Escanaba than any other and recalls all of the good things in her years of work.

An employee of the city before the Council-Manager form of government was adopted by the voters in 1921, she has been secretary to each of the city managers who followed: Fred R. Harris, Theodore F. "Ted" Kessler, George E. Bean, A. V. Aronson and City Manager George Harvey.

Miss Olson said that she has enjoyed her work and that it has been a pleasant experience working as secretary to the managers.

She most vividly recalls the years when George Bean was Escanaba's manager. He was later to become the "trouble shooter" manager who worked in a number of cities, including Grand Rapids and San Diego, was frequently a center of controversy.

"But after he had left San Diego they had a celebration and invited him back for it," she pointed out. And he returned to Grand Rapids a second time and just recently was retired and was given a tour of Europe.

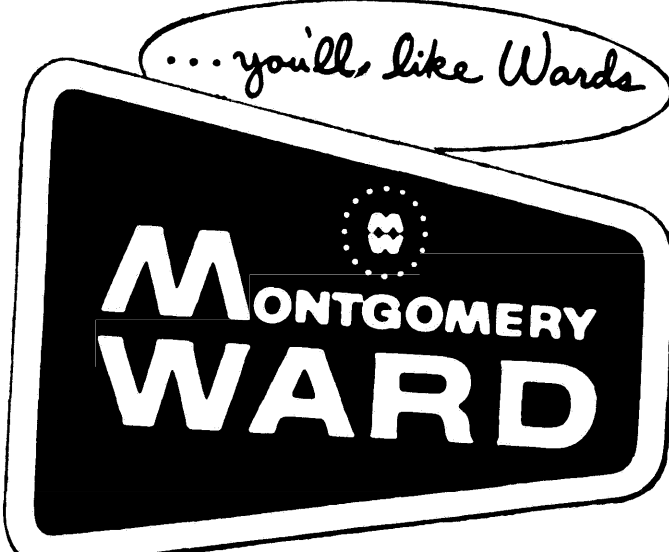

Miss Olson has something good to say about each of the city managers she has served, and in fact she is most likely to speak praise about everyone.

The "girls" is the City Hall presented her with a gift and honored her at a coffee break Thursday morning; and last night the City Council gave recognition to her years of service to the city. An original poem, written by City Controller Frank Bourke, was read to the Council by City Manager George Harvey.

Clare Bedding Adds Warehouse To U.P. Plant

Clare Bedding Co. has ordered a 120x63 Unimac pole frame building from MacGillis & Gibbs of Gladstone to enlarge its bedding plant at Hermansville.

William Denton, president and general manager of the company, said today that erection of the metal building will be done by Eric Kedsch of Daggett, with completion scheduled for Nov. 15.

The building will be one story with a floor of 5 inches of reinforced concrete. It will be used for the warehousing of the company's raw material stock like cotton, steel, yard goods, rubber and wood frames and Denton said that later some finished products may be warehoused in it.

Denton described his company's operations as "moving right along." It has 16 employees in its Hermansville factory, which originally served as a fur grading and storage facility for the Hiawatha Fur Ranch.

Big Rainbows Being Caught

NEWBERRY — With interest turning to hunting, little fishing activity is noted but very good fishing is reported for rainbows in the Big Two-Hearted River, both in the river and off the mouth, trolling.

Some fish up to eight pounds were taken, but the general run is 1½ to 2.

It appears the fall rainbow run is starting here. There were about 30 camps in the Forestry Two-Hearted campground.

Rainbows also were taken on Bass and Camp 8 lakes, perch in Bass Lake, Tahquamenon Bay, and northern pike in Round, Manistique, Brevoort, Mikkakokia and Ross lakes.

The British king George I, who was born and reared in Hanover, Germany, could not understand a word of English.

The firm manufactures mattresses, box springs, foam rubber products, jackknife sofa beds and other products.

Recently the St. Onge Wood Products Co. of Roland St. Onge, a native of the Hermansville area, moved its plant from Marinette to Hermansville to be nearer its source of material supply and the Clare Bedding market for bed frames and other wood products.

Clare Bedding sells its products in a 250 mile radius of Hermansville.

The new warehouse will be at the rear and to the east of the present plant and not connected with it.

Nadeau To Have New Postoffice

NADEAU — A contract has been awarded to Mrs. Bernice S. Bichel, 208 Main St., Nadeau, to build the new post office here and lease it to the Post Office Department.

The announcement of the award to the successful bidder advances the new building closer to the construction stage. When fully operational, the additional space and more modern equipment will, in the long run, more than offset the extra cost involved in producing more efficient handling of the mail.

The new building, 50 feet south of the present post office, on the west side of First Street will represent an estimated total investment of $5,000 by the successful bidder. It will be leased to the Department for five years with renewal options running through 10 years at an annual rental of $600 for the basic term.

The new one-story building will have an interior space of 480 square feet, compared with a total of 264 square feet for the other building.

The new post office is expected to be completed two months after the plans are approved.

Grand Ole Opry Tonight At 8:30

There are seats for 2,500 and tickets will be sold at the door in the WLST-sponsored entertainment. General admission is $1.50 and reserved seats are $2.50 for the three hour show.

It will be emceed by Tex Ritter, star of many TV and radio shows, who has appeared in 78 Western movies. His company will include Mac Wiseman, Little Jimmy Dickens, Dolores Smiley and Red Solvine and the Tennessee Valley Boys.

The advance ticket sale is at WLST, Gust Asp's, Ernie's Party Store and Norm's IGA.

Michigan's Beef

On the great curve on U. S. 2 east of Rapid River there's a new access road. It leads to the new livestock sale yard of the Bay de Noc Beef Producers Association, where the organization is holding its 8th annual sale of Upper Peninsula feeder calves and yearlings on Tuesday. Eighteen hundred animals have been consigned to the sale, a record number for the cooperative's marketing efforts.

Farmers who produce young beef animals own this cooperative. It is one of a string in Northern Michigan which are organized into the Beef Breeders Council. The co-ops conduct a series of sales like the ones at Bruce Crossing and Rapid River in the Upper Peninsula to sell Upper Peninsula-bred young beef animals to farmers who operate feed lots in the Corn Belt, where the animals are brought to market weight and good condition for the meat trade.

Next to its forests, the greatest agricultural resource of the Upper Peninsula is its grasslands. They support a big dairy industry which is the chief source of U. P. farm income, but the dairy business has a lot of problems that put the little operator on the spot, so many U. P. landowners are turning from milk cows to beef cows.

As the U. P. considers how it shall market its grass it is impressed that there is a surplus of milk and a difficulty in selling it in profitable markets. There is no such state surplus of young beef animals for the feed lots of Lower Michigan farms. The result is that Michigan feed lot owners must import most of their feeder animals from other states.

This is farm business lost to Michigan and especially to the Upper Peninsula, which Michigan State University cattle specialists say is well adapted to the profitable production of young beef animals. (We're not so well placed for prime finishing of meat animals because corn doesn't ripen in most U. P. farm areas.)

Michigan people eat an average of 194 pounds of red meat a year — 22 pounds more than the national average — and only 40 per cent of this meat comes from Michigan. The state imports 100,000 feeder calves a year for its feed lots. The State Beef Breeders Council sales handle only 12,500 and only 3,000 of these come from two U. P. sales and some of these animals go to Wisconsin and Illinois feed lots and not to Lower Michigan. The U. P. could and should raise many more beef calves. Lower Peninsula farmers have encouraged this business with their purchases and they could, by organized activity, encourage much more of it.

The magnitude of this business — and of the opportunity to expand its contribution to U. P. income — is reported as Michigan plans observance of Michigan Meat Week, Oct. 11-17. Cash income for livestock increased $8.6 million last year and the cash value of Michigan's meat was $388 million. Livestock accounted for 19 per cent of the income of Michigan farmers.

But the state imported meat in 1963 with a retail value of $517.4 million, so the state's meat industry has a lot of room for growth right at home.

The statistics are meaningless unless they're translated into action. The Bay de Noc Beef Producers Association of the central Upper Peninsula is doing that. And so is the co-operative that conducts the feeder calf sale at Bruce Crossing. They're converting U. P. resources into income and doing it with small means and large venture. They deserve a public "E" for Excellence flag to fly over their salesyards. While others are saying that someone should do something about using the U. P.'s farmlands, they're doing something.

Wooing Red Vassals

They may have heard the old refrain, but just the same the men in the Kremlin are wondering how're you gonna keep them down on the farm — in the satellite countries, that is.

The Soviets' grand scheme of a Communist-shared prosperity sphere conceives of a sort of division of labor among the eastern European satellites. Those already highly industrialized, like Czechoslovakia or Russia itself, are the factories. Countries like Romania or Bulgaria, traditionally suppliers of raw materials and agricultural products, are supposed to continue to emphasize this role.

The trouble is that some of them aren't content to stay with the down-on-the-farm economy, nor after they've seen what industrialization can do, nor do they want to be sequestered from the markets of the rest of the world any longer.

Poland's trade with the United States was a substantial $200 million in 1961. Following its lead, Romania signed its first trade agreement with Washington last year.

Now a U.S. trade mission composed of top-level industrialists and government officials is behind the Iron Curtain to confer with industrial leaders in Romania and Poland in hopes of further implementing President Johnson's policy of "building bridges of increased trade."

Every such bridge that is built cannot help but lessen the economic and political vassalage to the Soviet Union in which these satellites are now held.

Teen Wave

No one can seriously doubt that it is the taste of the teen-ager that decrees the trends in music, entertainment, fashion and even the language.

Now comes an authority to point out that the teen-ager — specifically, the teen-age wife — has replaced the farmer as the most important economic force in the nation.

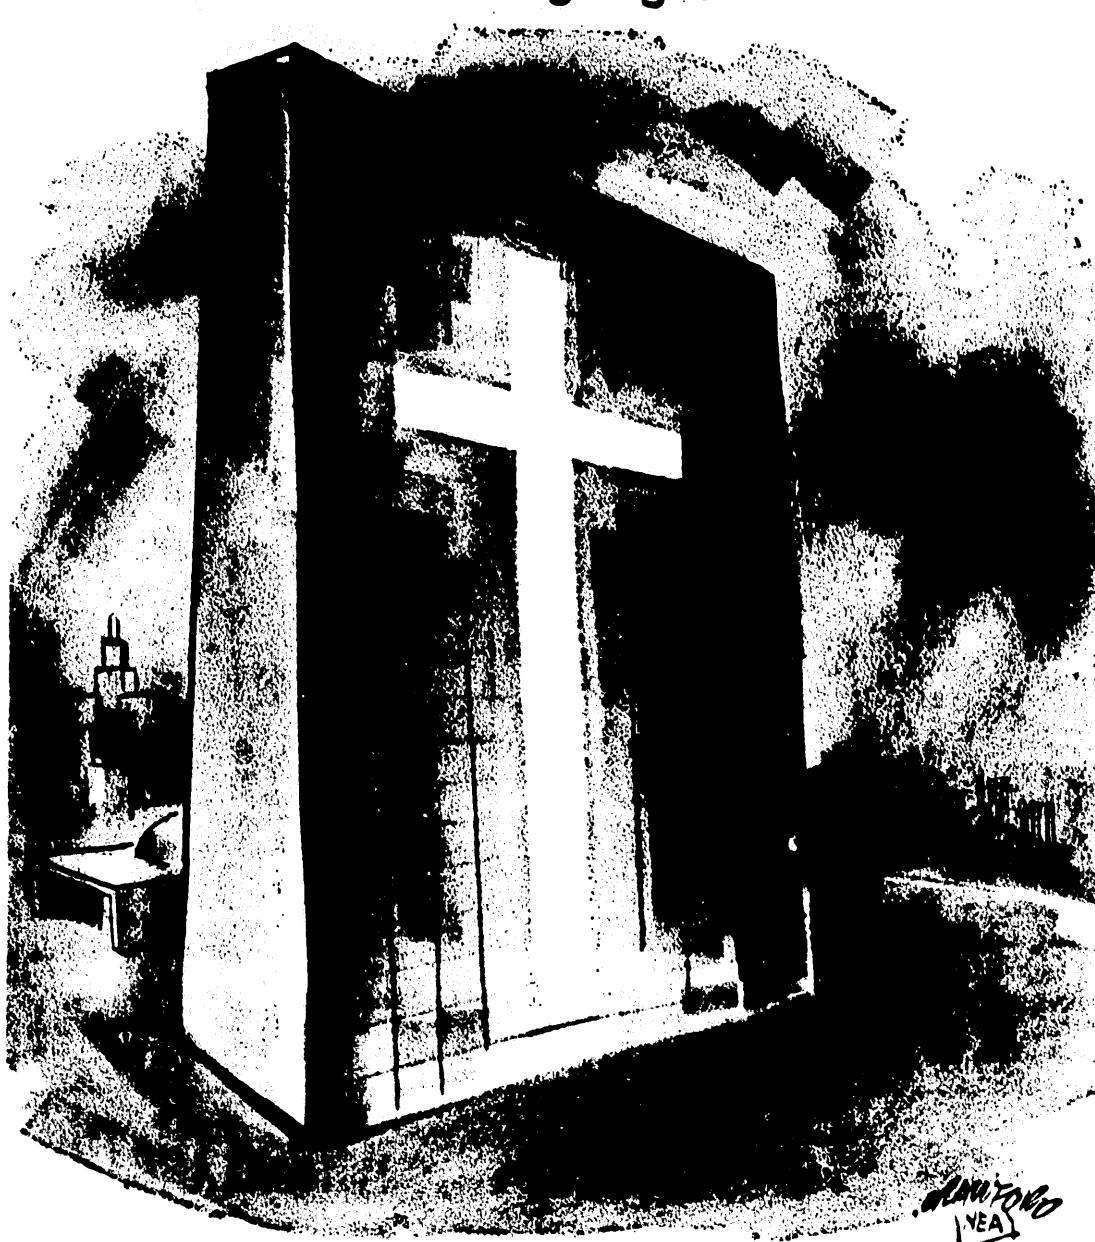

Mrs. Helen Nelson, writing for the Consumer Council of California, has the statistics to back up the statement:

1. About 40 per cent of all brides today are teen-agers.
2. More women marry at 18 than at any other age.
3. More wives have their first child at 19 than at any other age.
4. One of every six wives still in their teens has two or more children.
5. By 1970, more than half the American population will be under 25.

"It is a sobering thought," says Mrs. Nelson, "to consider that the consumer market may be dominated by inexperienced family units."

Even more sobering is the thought that those of us on the downhill side of 25 are doomed to be part of the Pepsi generation, whether we like it or not.

Gas Humane Weapon Ask The Dentist

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There's a lot of nonsense being written about the use of gas in Viet Nam.

Put yourself in this situation. You are hiding in a cave or mixed in a town with ordinary civilians and guerrillas. An enemy soldier is coming at you.

Would you rather be moved in on you with a flamethrower and burnt you to a crisp?

Would you rather be hit by head-on with a hand grenade? Would you prefer he dropped napalm and roasted you in a holocaust?

Would a rifle bullet suit you better?

Or would you prefer that he spray one of the riot gases that make you wretchedly uncomfortable? Your nose would run unmercifully and you'd throw up violently for awhile. It's much worse than being seared. But within 5 to 20 minutes you'd return to normal.

For me, the choice would be easy. I'd take the gas and live with no aftereffects.

(As with sulphur drugs or any other chemical, one man or woman out of a 1,000 or so may have a weakness—say a lung condition—that will be seriously affected by these gases. But 100 out of 100 die when hit directly in an accurate flamethrower attack and they die terribly.)

Even more humane gases are on the way. One makes enemy troops (and anyone else in range) not care any more. They become happy-go-lucky. Instead of fighting, they wander about in a happy daze. They

The Doctor Says:

Drug For Arthritis

By Dr. Raymond G. Brandstadt

Q—Is the new drug, Indocin, which is used for arthritis, experimental? Should it be used in addition to cortisone? What are the side effects?

A—Although indomethacin (Indocin) has only recently been made available in the United States it has been used for several years in some European countries and is no longer considered experimental. It has given excellent results in about 80 per cent of the persons who have used it for gouty arthritis, osteoarthritis (hypertrophic arthritis), rheumatoid arthritis and other varieties.

It has a distinct advantage over the cortisone group of drugs in that it can be used for prolonged periods. In the treatment of these chronic conditions, therefore, it should replace the cortisones because of the serious side effects of the latter.

The side effects from too large a dosage of indomethacin are headache, depression, dizziness and digestive upsets. If any of these occur the dosage should be reduced.

Q—Is there such a thing as a white-livered person? Is it contagious?

A—Although Shakespeare speaks of "lily-livered cowards" this expression is purely fanciful. In fatty degeneration of the liver, the organ becomes pale yellow. This may occur in alcoholic cirrhosis, diabetes, obesity and various types of poisoning. In cancer of the liver the tumor is white but the liver tissues not yet invaded by the cancer maintain normal color. In either case, there is no danger of contagion.

Q—Why do so many elderly gaze at the sky or laugh or sing, or gawk as though they were mildly drunk.

That's for me. It's better than bullets in the day.

It would, of course, be better if there were no wars. But we're in a war. As a church going nation, we have a duty to protect the freedom of South Viet Nam with the least practical harm to civilians. Many of these people are our friends.

Modern nonkilling gases are far more humane than other weapons in our arsenal. Yet we hesitate. The Communists call any gas "poison" (while making large quantities of the real poison gas for use in war).

Neutral nations, and friends, too, shout "barbarism." (But the police in a godly number of these same countries use these riot gases on crowds in their own countries in the name of humanness.)

The British raise their hands in horror. (But British troops in Cyprus and elsewhere use these gases in their military operations. They say it saves lives.)

We have to be shouting—and innocent men, women and children caught in a cross fire or hiding in caves with guerrillas are killed or maimed.

We don't want to kill or even wound these frightened people. But a grenade thrown in a guerrilla-infested hut or cave can't distinguish between a guerrilla and a frightened woman.

So in the name of humanness we kill human noncombatants instead of making them temporarily sick.

Q. Why are dental fillings always so much larger than the actual decayed part of a tooth?

P. J. F.

A. I suppose that you mean the filling placed by a dentist is bigger than the decay you see. However, an X-ray of a tooth usually indicates the decayed area is actually much larger than one can see when he looks at a tooth. Small areas of decay on the surface may extend into the softer part of the tooth and when this condition occurs the decay may progress very rapidly and be much larger than the cavity opening or hole which one can see. Once the decay process gets into the softer dentin of the tooth, the hole in the enamel is no indication of the size of the cavity, particularly if it is that part of the tooth surface which is in contact with another tooth.

When a dentist fills a tooth it is proper for him to bring the edges of the new restoration out to an area which can be reached by a tooth brush, because where the filling material—either silver or gold—meets the hard enamel tooth structure, is the weakest area of a filling, in regard to new decay beginning. This step of filling a tooth is called extension for prevention of new decay and merely provides that a tooth brush can clean that area without unusual effort.

The mechanical problems of locking the filling material into good sound tooth structure also require that certain principles be followed. The dentist must lock the filling into the dentin of the tooth and not just into the enamel, because the enamel has a tendency to break off unless it is supported by good dentin. It is necessary for the dentist to anchor most fillings through the enamel into the dentin.

Another very obvious reason for removal of certain tooth structure is to permit the dentist to have access to work properly. He must obtain a cavity form which will enable him to pack or place the filling material securely into the cavity.

So if you will try to remember that the success or failure of a filling or restoration in a tooth may depend upon the things I have mentioned, you will probably recognize that a good and properly extended filling will actually mean saving tooth structure over a period of years.

Q—I read some time ago that teeth could be transplanted from one area of the jaw to another and that teeth which were infected could be extracted, treated and replanted in the same socket if the socket was cleaned out and treated at the same time. Is such a thing just an experiment or could I have it done for myself?

A. The transplantation of a "tooth bud" from one area of the mouth to another has been an experimental procedure for many years. Usually it involves moving the wisdom tooth to another molar socket in the same mouth, but other teeth have been transplanted too. Some good results have been obtained, but the procedure is far from being routinely successful.

As to having your bad teeth removed, treated and replaced in the same socket, I would say your chances of success are practically none.

Actress Leaves Large Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Clara Bow left an estate exceeding $20,000 but also had established a trust fund of more substantial proportions, says her attorney.

Mrs. Bow died Sept. 27. She was 59.

Atty. Howard B. Hensley, who filed her will for probate Wednesday, said her personal belongings and mementos of her silent-movie career were bequeathed to her sons, Rex A. Beldam, 30, of Reno, Nev., and George Francis Beldam, 27, of Las Vegas, Nev.

Hensley said the will specified that the remainder of the estate was to be sold and the money added to a trust fund created for Miss Bow's benefit in 1929. Hensley said although the will did not name the sons as beneficiaries of the trust fund, they assumed they would be.

Ann Landers

Father Weds 'Dizzy Doris'

Dear Ann Landers: My father-in-law has been a widower since 1955. We hoped he would marry one of the fine women he has been taking out because soon he will be 60 years of age.

Last night he brought over a knock-kneed blonde who wore white lipstick, no eyebrows, and a red dress cut down to her navel. His first words were, "Meet the wife."

My husband said, "Are you Dizzy Doris?" She giggled and answered, "Yes, but you can call me Mother."

Ann, my husband used to go to school with that girl. She is two years younger than he is. He couldn't stand her then and he doesn't want her in our house now. I'm trying to keep peace in the family. Please help me.

— BE-FUDDLED

Dear B. Since Doris is obviously your father-in-law's choice, Doris though she may be, you should both accept her.

Keep the relationship on an invitation-only basis. Follow the directions on the jar of salad dressing. "Keep cool, but don't freeze."

Duck Hunters To Swing Into Action Monday

Michigan's 1965 waterfowl season shifts into high gear at sunrise Oct. 11 with duck hunting opening statewide, the Conservation Department reports.

Goose shooting has already been underway since Oct. 1 in the Upper and northern Lower peninsulas.

Opening day prospects are generally good for the 100,000-plus hunters who are expected to swing into action Oct. 11, according to the Department.

Joseph Vogt, Escanaba, district game biologist, reports observing about 400 waterfowl — black ducks, mallards and baldpates — in the back bay and Portage area recently.

Slump In Ducks

A good supply of geese is on hand in many parts of the state and Michigan-raised ducks should offer better-than-average shooting. During last spring, this state had a bumper crop of local ducks which again will provide the main targets during the early stage of the season.

On through to its Nov. 30 finish in all three regions of the state, this fall's goose season is expected to provide even better hunting than a year ago. Last season's goose kill in Michigan was nearly 40,000, best in more than 10 years.

For duck hunters, the picture is not as good. Although the early outlook is bright, the fall forecast indicates that hunters won't find nearly as many ducks coming through Michigan as in 1964.

With production slumping last spring in the duck factories of Canada, particularly among mallards, black ducks and pintails, this fall's flights could be down 15-20 percent from last season.

40-Day Season

That means that duck hunters probably won't reach their 1964 take of more than 367,000, no matter how well they score on local birds.

As far as regulations go, Michigan waterfowlers are in for pretty much the same kind of season as they had in 1964.

The duck season, which runs through Nov. 19, will again last 40 days and have the same bag limits as a year ago — four birds per day and eight in possession.

Teal, which were early targets during a special, permit-controlled season in September, will return to the shooting lost Oct. 11. No permits will be required to hunt these birds during the regular season.

Bag Limits

Special bag restrictions covering mallards and pintails have been changed because of the birds' low numbers. Not more than one bird of either species may be taken each day. This is a cutback of one duck per day from last year.

The daily bag limit and possession limit for the various kinds of birds are:

Ducks other than mergansers — Bag limit 4 including not more than 1 pintail, 1 mallard, 2 wood ducks, 2 canvasbacks. Possession limit 8 including not more than 2 pintails, 2 mallards, 2 wood ducks and 2 canvasbacks.

American, red-breasted and hooded mergansers — Bag limit 5 in the aggregate, including not more than 1 hooded merganser. Possession limit 10 in the aggregate, including not more than 2 hooded mergansers.

Bonus seap — Bag limit 2, and 4 in possession.

Geese (except Ross' geese and brant) — Bag limit 5, including not more than 2 Canada geese or subspecies, 2 white-fronted geese, or 1 Canada goose or subspecies and 1 white-fronted goose. The possession limit is one day's bag limit.

Coots — Bag limit 10, possession limit 20.

Gallinules and rails — 15 and 30.

Wilson's snipe (jacksnipe) — 8 and 16.

Woodcock — 5 and 10.

State To Receive Federal Aid For Senior Citizens

LANSING (AP) — Michigan will receive a $139,000 federal grant for projects to benefit senior citizens, Gov. George Romney said Thursday.

He said the grant would help support councils on aging operating in nearly 60 counties.

The Michigan Commission on Aging will screen projects and funds will be allotted to communities on a 3-to-1 matching basis.

John B. Martin of Grand Rapids, commission chairman, said possible projects might include establishment of information and referral programs, senior citizen centers and senior service corps programs, and training of persons to work with older people both in homes and activity centers and in nursing homes and public institutions.

In addition, he said, the state will help local councils promote comprehensive home care services, assist in pre-retirement educational projects, personal counseling and transportation services.

Griffith, Knotts Shine In Special

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — The variety show, like the Western and the situation comedy, is a standard form of television entertainment. It invariably contains a certain quantity of song, a couple of production numbers by the dancers, two or more sketches and usually a monologue.

The entertainment value built into this woefully familiar format depends entirely upon the quality of ingredients. Thus, the use in almost equal parts of three engaging, talented fellows insured the success of Thursday night's CBS program with the forthright title of "The Andy Griffith-Don Knotts-Jim Nabors Special."

Griffith sparkled in a number of his easy-going stories that wind up with a little moral lesson. His version of Julius Caesar's unhappy demise was a small classic.

Monologue Funny

Knotts had a funny monologue about two bickering astronauts bored by being too long in each other's company.

But the bright star of the hour was Jim Nabors, who got away from his usual "Gomer Pyle" role long enough to sing some popular songs in his rich voice and even do some thoroughly acceptable dancing.

There were periods when the trio climbed back into their familiar television roles. Griffith and Knotts went into their uniforms as the Mayberry law enforcers in a weak sketch that telegraphed its windup. Nabors had a number in which he played his familiar Marine character. These were not the show's happiest moments.

Downs To Return

The idea of the special had its beginning when the trio teamed up for a nightclub appearance. They worked so nicely together Thursday night that there must be room for more. Nabors particularly should be seen more often out of uniform.

Haapala To Chair Accountants Meet

Members of the U. P. Chapter of the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants will meet at Michigan Tech in Houghton at 3 p. m., with a welcome address by Dr. R. L. Smith, Tech president. Speaker will be Dr. William A. Paton, professor emeritus of accounting, University of Michigan.

A reception at the Misewau-bik Club, Calumet and dinner will follow. Donald W. Haapala, CPA of Escanaba, the new Chapter chairman, will preside.

er and sporting a neatly trimmed Van Dyke beard, will be back on his two NBC shows, "Today" and "Concentration," after three and one-half months sailing a 65-foot ketch from Florida to Tahiti.

He shot a lot of film, performed some oceanographic experiments, hunted goats on the Galapagos Islands, helped rescue two marooned Ecuadorians from an uninhabited island and was swept overboard once in a storm. He says he'll be glad to get back to television.

Private Plowing By County OK'd By Legislature

LANSING (UPI)—Upper Peninsula residents would be able to ask their county road commissions to clear their driveways and private roads of snow this winter under a bill passed by the Senate Thursday.

The snow plow bill, which cleared the House, passed the Senate by a 36-1 vote and now goes to the governor for final approval.

Under provisions of the measure, Upper Peninsula residents must pay for all expense incurred by the county.

The bill was introduced in the House by Reps. Elmer Erlandson, D-Escanaba, Dominic Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, Russell Hellman, D - Dollar Bay and

Former Residents Wed In Britton

GERMFASK — Miss Dorina May Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burns of Deerfield became the bride of Robert Trombley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Trombley of Ridgeway, at candlelight service at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church at Britton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas Dorben. Traditional organ music was offered by Mrs. Illeen Gilman.

The bride escorted to the altar by her father, wore a floor length gown of chantilly lace and tulle, and her three tiered elbow length veil was held in place by a petal crown. Her bouquet was white roses with rosebud streamers. Mrs. Ray Trombley, Matron of Honor was attired in a mint green organ-dress gown. Ray Trombley was best man. Sandra Nash of Detroit was flower girl. Jerry Burns, ring bearer and Francis and Polimer Burns ushered.

A reception was held at 9 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents, 304 Raisen St., Deerfield. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Tecumseh, where the bridegroom is employed.

Crippled Tanker Rides Rough Sea

BOSTON (UPI)—A crippled 20,000 ton tanker with 45 men aboard sea-sawed in rough seas today with gasoline pouring out of a gaping gash in its side.

Coast Guard officials said 30 knot winds and 12-foot seas helped to minimize—at least temporarily — the danger of a mire or explosion on the Cities Service Baltimore, a 661-foot tanker carrying 238,000 gallons of gasoline.

Authorities said the tide and rough seas quickly washed the gasoline away from the vessel and brisk winds kept fumes from building up.

The ship was listing 20 degrees to port early today, but officials said it was in "no immediate danger of sinking." No injuries were reported and there were no plans to take off the crew.

A 400-foot slash was ripped in the side of the tanker Thursday night when the ship struck a submerged object two miles out of Boston harbor.

Briefly Told

Two boys put a car into reverse in the Northern Motor Co. used car lot Thursday afternoon, starting the motor and then became frightened and jumped out, police reported. The car backed into and damaged a parked car owned by Bonnie Carey, Escanaba Rte. 1.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to Henry E. Rogers, Wells, failing to yield the right of way, and to James K. Daignault, BarR River Rte. 1, speeding.

In Service

James G. Ward III, formerly of Escanaba and now residing in Green Bay, has enlisted for a three-year tour of duty in the U. S. Army and is taking basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Upon completion of basic training, he will attend a missile electronics school at Fort Mead, Maryland.

Germfask

Rummage-Bake Sale
The Ladies Aid of Grace Lutheran Church will sponsor a Baked Goods and Rummage Sale to be held Saturday Oct. 9th at the Germfask Laundromat from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Board Meeting
A regular meeting of the board of Education met Saturday night at the Germfask Elementary School. Harry Prieskorn resigned his position on the board and Thurman Skarritt has been appointed to take his place.

James Constantini, D-Iron Mountain.

There was bipartisan support for the measure in the Senate. "People who live back off the highway don't have any way of getting out during a big snow-fall," said Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit.

The lone dissenter on the bill was Sen. Don Potter, R-Lansing, who called the measure a matter of "political expediency for those who represent the Upper Peninsula." He called the bill unconstitutional.

The effort of the U. P. legislators to make government snowplow equipment available for plowing of private driveways is the latest round in a long bout.

The state attorney general informed county road commissions that it was illegal for them to operate their plow trucks off public highways. The illegality was compounded by liability, the road commissions pleaded in cutting off the service.

Delta County tried an end run around the law to provide driveway plowing. Township governments made an arrangement with their residents who wanted driveways plowed and then the townships contracted with the county road commission for plow service.

House Votes Bill To Refinance Mackinac Bridge

Birmingham, and George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, tried unsuccessfully to discharge the roads and bridges committee of consideration of a sign control bill.

The measure would have restricted signs within a 660-foot "protective area" on either side of most state roads.

The state highway department has been fighting for removal of signs from highway rights-of-way for years, claiming the state stands to lose large amounts of federal funds if it fails to do so.

Claims Fund Change
As bait, Montgomery offered to limit the bill to roads built after next Jan. 1, but it failed.

"After we go home this month, the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads could pull the rug out from under us," Hampton said.

Jacobetti, member of a conference committee which has another sign control bill under consideration, said a meeting with the bureau during the summer recess "assured us that the federal government will not withhold any funds."

Also approved Thursday were changes in the motor vehicle accident claims fund — which first takes effect next Jan. 1. The fund is designed to protect innocent motorists from uninsured or unidentified drivers.

Amendments would exclude payments from the fund for hit-and-run property damage accidents, raise the deductible factor for property damage from $50 to $300 and eliminate a $50 deductible for personal injury or death.

Discuss City, School Aims

Objectives of the City of Escanaba and the Escanaba Area Public Schools were discussed in an informal exchange between the City Council and the Board of Education Thursday night at the City Hall.

The meeting was held at the invitation of Mayor George Rusch and followed the Council session.

Described as exploratory, the discussion ranged widely over topics of mutual concern affecting the future of the community in the fields of education, recreation, and maintenance and service operations.

Carlton Olsen, president of the school board, said there are areas of cooperation which can be more fully considered, and suggested the need for crossing guards to aid small children across busy streets in elementary school areas.

City Manager George Harvey will obtain further information and make a report to the Council.

The discussion touched on topics including: Snow plowing, community recreation, a swimming pool, and the need for 36 additional classrooms to meet enrollment growth.

Mayor Rusch indicated his interest in attending with Supt. Barrett the Community School Workshop sponsored by the Mott Foundation to be held at Flint the last week in October.

Stock Market Active, Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced in active trading early today following word from the White House that President Johnson's gall bladder operation was "a complete success."

Gains of fractions to a point among key stocks bolstered the averages.

Motors put on a fairly strong performance. Airlines, oils, rail, aerospace issues, electronics, office equipments and building materials were higher.

Several major steelmakers were unchanged. Utilities were unchanged to a trifling lower.

Aside from Du Pont, up 1, and Union Carbide, up a fraction, there was slight change among chemicals.

Pelting Unit Being Added At Pipkorn Ranch

Pipkorn Brothers mink ranch near Spalding is constructing a 30x60 foot concrete block addition to its main ranch building for its pelting operations, scheduled for next month.

"We were too cramped at pelting time," said Elmer Pipkorn, who is associated with his brothers, Harold and Norman Pipkorn, in the enterprise, "so we're adding a wing on the east side of the building. We planned it when we constructed the original building and the utility leads are arranged.

"We plan to have it under roof so we can use in the coming pelting season. Howard Berger of Carney is the construction contractor."

The Pipkorn Brothers ranch is near Spalding on the south side of U. S. 2 two and a half miles from Hermansville. Its buildings were constructed in 1947.

The ranch has 13,000 mink, old and young and will pelt about 10,000 in November. Its stock is about 40 per cent dark mink and the rest mutations in light colors.

Elmer Pipkorn said that the mink fur industry looks for a benefit from expiration of the 10 per cent luxury tax on furs this year. "It should help the market," he said "and ranchers are informed that the New York fur auction houses are rather generally cleaned out of last year's skins so we're expecting a good market—not a spectacular one, but a good one. The biggest threat is foreign imports."

The survivors include: four sons, Louis of Iowa, William of Manitowoc, and Clarence and Donald of Green Bay. Two daughters, Mrs. Harry (Ileen) Capion, and Mrs. Clark (Theresa) Fuller of Green Bay; two sisters, Mrs. Rebecca Charlesbois, Escanaba and Mrs. Florence Oumette of Sault Ste. Marie. One brother, Henry of Escanaba. Another brother, Edward, died Sept. 2, 1965.

The body was removed to the Alto Funeral Home where complete arrangements will be announced Saturday.

Custom of the Christmas tree is said to be a survival of the tree worship of ancient German tribes.

Operation Of Thrift Shop Discontinued

After 15 years of service to the needy people of the area, Mother's Thrift Shop has discontinued its activities. Begun originally by Marygrove Retreat Club, the first location on the west end of Ludington St. was changed to the 700 block when a group of ladies from Gladstone took over the sponsorship on behalf of Holy Name High School Parents' Club.

Since then, hundreds of women from all the parishes served by the high school have donated untold hours of time and service to the successful operation of the project.

Mrs. William A. Le Mire, untiring in requests for donations became as well known as any woman in the area during her long-time chairmanship.

Nickel and dime sales eventually paid for paying the street along the school. In recent years, private sales had cut sharply into business, necessitating a change in future plans.

Preparations are now under way for what will be the first annual Parents' Club giant rummage sale. Mrs. Earl Veldman is chairman of this event, which will take place on Oct. 22-23 in the exhibition building at the fairgrounds.

Eagles Auxiliary Makes Plans For Future Events

The annual Halloween party for all Eagles families and friends will be held Sunday, Oct. 31, beginning at 3 p. m. in the club rooms. Potluck supper will be served at 5. Mrs. Alice Runkel and Mrs. Mildred Severinsen are in charge of arrangements.

The date, Dec. 8, was set for the Christmas party. All Auxiliary meetings throughout the year will begin at 7:30 p. m. instead of the usual time, 8 p. m.

U.S. Suspends Rocket Practice At Jap Request

TOKYO (AP)—The United States today suspended practice firing of Little John rockets in the foothills of Mt. Fuji at the request of the Japanese government.

The government asked that the firing, scheduled to resume today, be suspended to avoid clashes with demonstrating farmers.

Nearly 2,000 farmers assembled near the target area with placards saying "American military murderers go home." The farmers want to put the firing range under cultivation, and leftist opponents of the government's pro-American policy are egging them on.

An Army spokesman said the artillery unit would return to Okinawa.

Michigan Parks Need Policemen, Commission Told

LANSING (AP)—More police or conservation officer riot-breakers are needed at southern Michigan state parks "or we might have a major riot on our hands some day," the Conservation Commission was told Thursday.

"We feel like we're sitting on dynamite. Nothing has happened as yet but there is potential race strife. We want to prevent incidents instead of cleaning up after accidents," said Warren Shapton, regional park manager for the Lower Peninsula.

"In a minor way," Shapton said, "we have the same problem they have in the big cities." Shapton said the need is urgent for riot-trained police or conservation officers.

The local sheriffs and State Police have done "a fine job" in helping us, he said, "but we need more help."

Suggest 'Night Rangers'
Shapton said he had suggested to legislative budget planners the setting up of a roving patrol of some 40 "night rangers" able to move immediately into any trouble area.

"Instead," he said, "the legislators suggested it might be better to beef up State Police."

Most of the dangerous incidents are at night, Shapton reported.

So far this year, he said, there have been 886 incidents involving 834 adults and 3,375 minors. These led to nearly 700 arrests, he said.

"If we had adequate personnel, we could have prevented about 200 of the incidents," he claimed.

Major problems he said, involved alcohol, breaking and entering, violation of park rules and vandalism.

Too Many Dogs
Shapton said stricter regulations on dogs in state parks appeared to be working out well.

"There still were 15 dog bite cases reported," he said. "We had the same complaints about the dogs messing up the camp grounds and barking at night."

Most of the dog bite cases, he said, happened when dogs broke their ropes and went after children. The department is strictly enforcing the rules on dogs in camping grounds and has seen a vast improvement, although it still receives complaints from pet-owners, Shapton said.

"It looks like dogs are better behaved than people," observed Commissioner Carl Johnson of Cadillac.

Johnson suggested a correspondence course in conservation be set up at one of the universities, perhaps Michigan State. New York has a successful one, he said, with about 800 persons. Such a home study course, the commissioner said, could meet a real demand from the people to learn more about conservation.

Unemployment Low In State

DETROIT (AP)—Unemployment in Michigan dropped to 2.6 per cent for the 30-day period ending Sept. 15, equalling the lowest figure recorded in the last 10 years, the Michigan Employment Security Commission said Thursday.

Last month, the figure was 6 per cent for Detroit and 5.6 per cent for the state.

Commission director Malcolm R. Lovell Jr. said the return of auto workers, laid off during the model changeover, was the main cause for the drop.

A 2.6 per cent unemployment figure was recorded in May, but unemployment rose during the summer because of students trying for jobs and auto industry layoffs.

Total unemployment in the state was 82,000 Sept. 15, and 39,000 persons were without work in Detroit, Lovell added. Comparable Aug. 15 figures were 102,000 and 57,000 respectively.

Power Line Falls, Traps Students

DETROIT (AP)—A high tension electric power line fell on a chain cyclone parking lot fence at Suburban Grosse Pointe High School Thursday, imprisoning some 3,000 students and teachers for an hour.

No one was injured, and students were dismissed for the day after Detroit Edison Co. workmen deactivated the line about noon Power in a five-block area surrounding the school was out four hours.

An Edison Co. spokesman said the damage was caused by a defective part which broke on a power pole, creating an electrical short circuit. One of the "live" wires fell on the fence, he said.

Student Teaching New TV Station Center At Stephenson

STEPHENSON — Northern Michigan University has designated the Stephenson Consolidated Schools as one of several centers in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan where college seniors who plan to go into the teaching profession may secure directed teaching experience.

The present student program for directed teaching is for each teacher candidate to spend eight weeks in a school system under an experienced teacher. The student teacher who is assigned on a full time basis, will live in the community, and participate not only in formal classroom work but will have an opportunity to work with extra-curricular activities, get involved in in-service work in the school and participate in a variety of community activities.

Edmer Lacasse, high school principal, has been appointed by the Board of Education as director of the program at the local level. One student teacher will be assigned by Northern Michigan University to Stephenson during the first semester of 1965-66 and perhaps ten or twelve additional students during the second semester.

Northern Michigan University is currently offering a course in Directed Student Teaching in Stephenson for staff members in the system interested in the program. The course is being given for graduate credit and will run for ten consecutive weeks, three hours per session.

Paisano Club To Hear Hart At Ishpeming

ISHPEMING—The first convocation of the Paisano Club of Upper Michigan is scheduled here Oct. 17, Leonard Altobelle, chairman, announces. The Marquette County Chapter of the club will host the gathering of Upper Michigan Italo-Americans.

Senator Philip A. Hart, sponsor of the immigration bill recently passed by the U. S. Senate, will be the principal speaker and the Italian consulate of Detroit will be represented.

Invitations are going out to 424 members of the club. The dinner will be served at 1:30 p. m. in Kron-Dingfelder Hall of St. John's School and business and social sessions will follow.

The Paisano Club aims at fostering among Italo-Americans an interest in the ancient culture of immigrant forebears and to highlight the contribution to the local community of third-generation Italians. Establishment of a loan fund to assist Italian-American students attending Upper Michigan colleges is the primary goal of the club.

Interested persons may write Mrs. Leonard Altobelle, 613 N. Fourth St., Ishpeming.

GOP Committee Raps Pay Vote

WASHINGTON—Rep. Raymond F. Cleveland's vote Sept. 30 to give Congress a pay raise of over $200 per month was "unjustified, unwarranted and out of line with any guidelines in business or government," the Republican Congressional Committee said today.

The committee pointed out that congressmen just received a pay raise of $625 a month in January of this year, boosting their annual salary to $30,000. "We recognize that the tens of billions of dollars of deficit spending that Congressman Cleveland has voted for this year will undoubtedly skyrocket the cost of living," the committee said. "But that still does not justify his voting for another large pay raise."

Labor Relations Taught At Tech By Ford Official

HOUGHTON — Michigan Tech. has launched an evening course in industrial labor relations to give students more than a dry textbook version of what it is and how to do it.

Teaching the course is William E. Barstow, Jr., associate professor of business and engineering administration, who spent more than 20 years in personnel management and corporate planning positions with Ford Motor Co.

The course is being offered as a service to area businessmen and industrial representatives, and to any others interested in the subject.

Technically, it is known as BA 263, a three-credit course involving the study of the growth, objectives and methods of organized labor. Among the topics to be discussed are grievances, handling arbitration and mediation, and the principles of negotiation. Classes start Oct. 14.

Ranch Look Of Comfort

U-SHAPED RANCH: The bedroom wing on the left and the well-designed garage on the right enclose the spacious front

By ANDY LANG

A ranch house, with all the rooms on a single floor, must have a certain amount of length to it to avoid a square or boxy look.

There are reasons, however, why most ranches do not have the rooms strung out in a straight line. For one thing, a plot with enough frontage for that type of house is not always available. For another, many persons are not sold on the idea of a house with a long, low look, although it must be admitted that some seek out just such a design.

For those who like the basic ranch style and have neither the land nor the desire for a house with a lengthy front, the U-shaped plan is ideal. It has the important ranch advantage of no stairs to climb during housekeeping chores and at bedtime, cuts down on the length of the house, gives it a

G-4 STATISTICS

Design G-4 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, laundry area, three bedrooms, two baths, a lavatory, a rear porch, a two-car garage and a front portico. The habitable area totals 1600 square feet, not including the garage and porches. Over-all dimensions, which include everything, are 65' 8" by 41' 4".

welcoming look, and provides an interior arrangement that is highly suitable for easy livability.

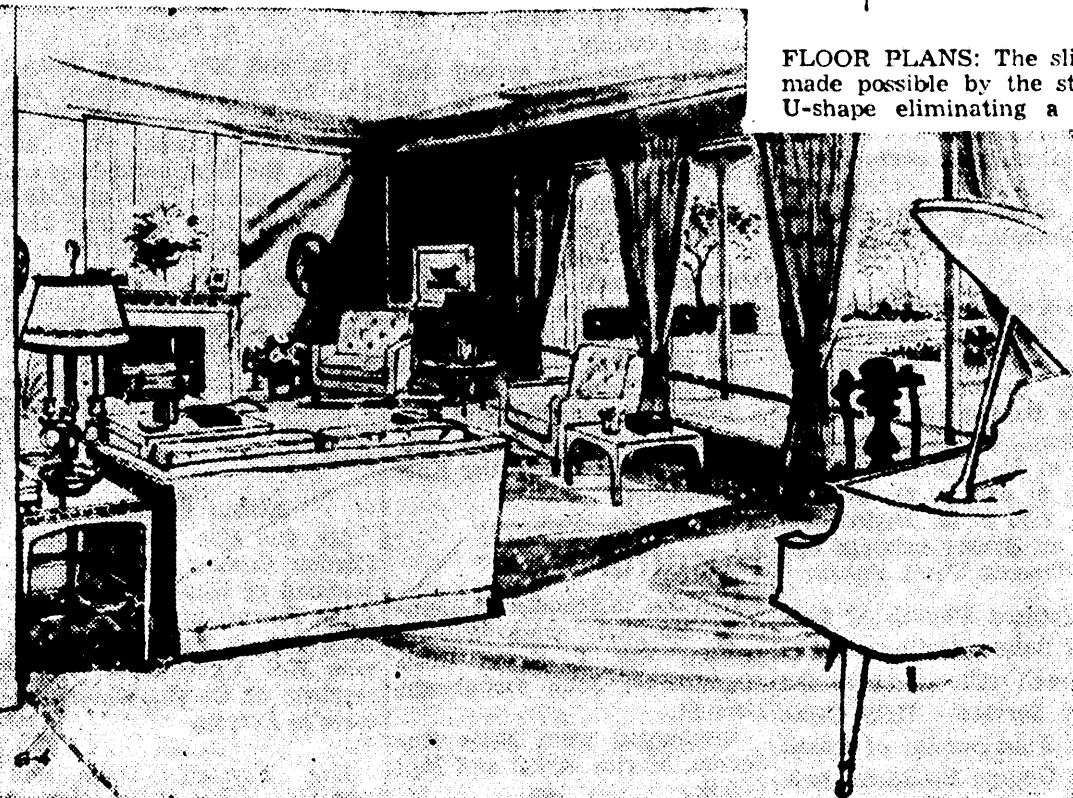

An excellent example of a U-shaped ranch is Design G-4, created for the House of the Week series by architect Herbert C. Struppman. From the wide gracious entrance portico, sheltered by the wings of the bedrooms and double garage, one gets an immediate appearance of comfort. The handsome living room windows provide a view of the front garden or lawn and the street, but still offer the family privacy because of the width of the portico. It is always somewhat surprising what a sight and buffer this open yet sheltered area can provide.

The interior plan makes the best use of the "U". Minimum halls, but enough for a good flow of traffic, are used. Thus, the bedroom wing includes a feeling of space and isolation. Its center area is efficient, with two baths back to back and a closet complex that would do credit to a more costly house.

For the parents' room, the full bathroom and huge closets act as a privacy shield—a kind of twin vestibule that makes this room a real suite and frees every foot of it for furniture placement. No youngster would complain about the rear bedrooms. They have a closet wall between, offering almost 13' of storage space to the two rooms.

The living room is nicely scaled, with its highlights of front window area and side fireplace making it most adaptable to formal decor. You can be comfortable in a room like this no matter how you handle it. Through an arch at the back, the dining room is square and suitable for a family room if this is preferred to a separate dining room.

The service and utility areas complete a practical floor plan. A nice square kitchen has a dinette corner and a step-saving L counter for appliances and kitchen storage. A big pantry closet is a feature. To the side, there's a windowed laundry section with a lavatory adjacent.

A secluded back porch is big enough to be used as a play area. The service door via the porch and the garage access to the back vestibule make it easier to keep back-door traffic where it belongs.

The 1600 square feet of habitable area are utilized to the utmost in this well-planned, comfortable house.

FLOOR PLANS: The slightly different and excellent floor layout of this ranch house is made possible by the structural placement designed by architect Herbert Struppman, the U-shape eliminating a too-lengthy frontage.

Singing Star Asks For Music By Mrs. Davis

Connie Francis, popular singing star whose recordings go spinning merrily into the hit parade, is interested in the compositions of a Manistique woman.

The composer is Mrs. Joseph (Irene L.) Davis of 208 N. 1st St., a native of Manistique, who began writing songs about three years ago. Miss Francis' interest in Mrs. Davis' work was aroused through a contact made by a friend of the latter.

"Tears and Wine" and "Let's Have No Goodbyes To Remember" are among the titles of the 70 or more records of song and lead sheets supplied to the singer by Mrs. Davis.

She has hopes for her work sent to Miss Francis — but she also believes "it will be a miracle" if any should find favor and acceptance.

Mrs. Davis has the collaboration of her daughter, Cheri, 13, on some of her songs. Cheri is one of her four children. Mrs. Davis is employed by the Army Corps of Engineers. Cheri and Jody Davis are at home, and she has two children, Harold and Barry Goff by a former marriage.

Although she is a "one-fingered piano player" she has a way with words and a cousin, Mrs. Thomas Shampine does arrangements for her. Most of her songs are rhythmic and blues, country-western and sacred hymns.

One of her records "Nicotine Fit" has words by Mrs. Davis and music by the Renegades of Manistique doing the vocals.

Mrs. Davis has a "singing family background." Her father, Eugene Scott and her mother, the former Vera Linderoth, played musical instruments. Her sister is Mrs. Hartley LaBute of Garden and her brother is Millard Scott of Manistique.

Senior Americans, about 18 million in number, have an annual income of approximately $37 billion.

Mill Grates Are Repaired

The Manistique Pulp and Paper mill resumed operations at 2 p.m. Wednesday following a temporary shutdown Sunday at 11:30 p.m., when grates in the new boiler plant burned out.

The grate problem has been the only one arising with the new power plant constructed by the Field Enterprise mill, said Frank S. Hoholik, president and general manager.

Machinery is being fabricated rebuilding of much of the mill in a continuing improvement program.

Crews have completed repairs for the flume, removing deteriorated concrete and installing steel re-enforced concrete. With repair of a section between the mill and the bridge next year, the flume restoration will be complete.

Briefly Told

The Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m., in St. Francis de Sales school basement. Hostesses will be Mmes. William Barker, John Weber, Ivor Willcock, John Barr, Robert Barr, Adam Bauer, Martin Beaudre and Richard Berger and Miss Frances Berandi.

World War I veterans and Auxiliary meet Monday, Oct. 11 at 7:30 p.m., in the VFW hall.

State Police ticketed Don W. Vertanen of Chassell for expired operator license and Floyd B. Himes, Perrinton, non-stop.

Fine of $75 and a 30-day jail sentence were levied Larry G. Hanke, 18 of 220 N. 3rd St., in Justice court on charges of violating 6-months probation imposed June 14 when he was charged with being a minor in possession of alcoholic beverage. He was assessed fine of $35 and costs of $4.30 this week on another charge of being a minor in possession and also was assessed fine of $10 and costs of $2 for permitting an unlicensed minor to drive.

The 1956 class reunion committee will hold an important meeting at the school Oct. 11 at 8 p.m.

Prescription Drug Insurance Planned

LANSING (AP) — Michigan residents would be able to insure themselves against large prescription drug expenses under a plan announced Thursday by the Michigan State Pharmaceutical Association.

The MSPA said the plan would be similar to existing prepaid medical and hospital insurance plans.

The MSPA's executive committee authorized establishment of a pharmaceutical service corporation to develop and administer a prepaid prescription plan. It expected the plan to be underway in 1966.

The corporation would set up prepaid drug plans with labor unions, churches or other groups. Members would pay a small fee for prescriptions, and the pharmacist would be reimbursed by the service corporation for the rest of the cost.

Twins Are Halfway To World Championship

Confident They Can Handle Osteen Next

By JOE REICHLER

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Brimming with confidence after beating the Dodgers' fearsome pitching pair of Don Drysdale and Sandy Koufax, the victorious Minnesota Twins expressed confidence today they can add nemesis Claude Osteen to their list of victims when the World Series resumes Saturday in Los Angeles.

Halfway to the World Championship after beating Koufax 5-1 at Minnesota Thursday on top of their opening 8-2 defeat of Drysdale, the Twins were even dreaming of a four-game sweep, predicted earlier by Los Angeles General Manager Buzzie Bavasi—but by the Dodgers.

"I'd love to sweep," said Twins' Manager Sam Mele, "but they're a tough outfit, and you've got to play heads up all the time. I've been telling you guys we're pretty tough, too."

Pascual Gets Nod

Perhaps the toughest assignment of the Series goes to Camilo Pascual, the Twins' right-hander who is slated to open in Los Angeles following Friday's off day for travel.

Not only will the American League champions be playing in the Dodgers' home park, but the Twins' record against the Angels there has been nothing to write home about.

Minnesota's batting average for nine games at Dodger stadium during the regular season was less than .200. They hit only one home run at Dodger Stadium all year.

In addition, left-hander Osteen was exceptionally tough for the Twins during his years with the Washington Senators. The 26-year-old southpaw, traded to Los Angeles last winter, holds five victories over the Twins without a defeat.

Kaat Gets Hit

"We've hit Claude in some of the games," said Harmon Killebrew, the Twins' third baseman and home run king. "Maybe we can again."

The Twins beat Koufax without hitting a home run. The big blow was Tony Oliva's sixth-inning double, which drove in the Twins' first run, a clutch run-scoring single by Killebrew and Zoilo Versalles' triple that led to a run in the seventh. Kaat helped his cause with a two-run, bases-loaded single in the eighth.

The Twins hit two home runs to one for the Dodgers in the opener.

Pascual, who missed seven weeks because of back trouble, was an interested dugout spectator during the Twins' first two triumphs. Did he think he earned something while watching Jim Grant and Jim Kaat tame the Dodgers hitters?

Koufax Fanned Nine

"The only way to learn is to go to the mound and do your own job," said the 31-year-old Cuban. "No two pitchers are alike. Grant pitches one way, Kaat another and neither pitches the way I do."

Koufax, a 26-game winner during the regular season, didn't pitch badly. He permitted six hits in six innings, striking out nine.

Lyles To Miss Sunday's Game

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions got some welcome news Thursday in preparing to take on the defending Western Division champion Baltimore Colts Sunday.

The Colts' great defensive back, Lenny Lyles, will miss the National Football League game. His replacement is an inexperienced rookie, Alvin Haymond.

Lyles suffered a leg injury in the Colts' 27-24 victory over the San Francisco 49ers Sunday. The 49ers picked on his replacement, Haymond, for two late touchdowns which almost pulled off an upset.

The Lions are hoping it will be enough to get their pass receiving corps of Terry Barr, Jim Gibbons and Pat Studstill open for the passes of Milt Plum.

This has been a major Lion trouble in three defense-in-lined victories to date. The Lions lead the NFL in defense but are last in offense.

Meanwhile, offensive end Gail Cogdill continued to work out with the team but it was not certain whether he would see action Sunday. Cogdill fractured a knee cap three weeks ago, but is now able to run and participate in workouts.

However, head coach Harry Gilmer said Thursday he expected to depend on Studstill for the split end job against the Colts, waiting to see how Cogdill's knee holds up in drills.

"I didn't feel I had it," said the stylish southpaw. "If my control would have been good, I might have gotten away with it, but it wasn't."

Walter Alston, the Dodger manager, agreed with his pitching ace.

"I've seen Sandy better," he said.

Alston added: "I'll be glad when we change ball parks. I know we'll have better weather, and I hope we can score more runs."

Past Comebacks

Alston emphasized, however, he was not seeking any alibis because of the weather.

"They just outplayed us," he said. "They deserved to win."

The Dodgers manager recalled that in 1955 the then Brooklyn Dodgers dropped two games behind and came back to defeat the New York Yankees in the Series.

Three other teams came back to win after losing the first two games. They were the 1921 New York Giants, the 1956 Yankees and the 1958 Yankees.

Feathers Fly, So Does Tar

HUNTINGTON WOODS (AP) — The feathers of some Huntington Woods folks have been ruffled because they've been tarred.

The tar is a liquid asphalt which the Oakland County community used a week ago to resurface 10 residential blocks.

It didn't— as it was supposed to— stick to the old street surface.

It splattered on cars, stuck to shoes and was tracked into houses by pets.

Complaints brought the following developments:

Huntington Woods is paying about $2.50 per car and the owner is paying $1.75 for the washing of asphalt-splattered autos. More than 150 have been washed so far.

City manager Fred L. Yockey says the city's insurance company has been notified of the some 25 complaints of carpets dirtied by the asphalt.

City crews have been cleaning driveways and garage floors upon which the sticky stuff dripped.

"This is the first time in 15 years in municipal government that I have ever had to order employees onto private property," Yockey said.

Recruit School

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police, expanding their ranks by 200 troopers, will open the first of a series of recruit schools with 37 candidates Oct. 11. The department said recruiting is continuing for later sessions of the eight-week schools.

First lighthouse in the U. S., a tall masonry tower, was built in 1716 by Massachusetts at the entrance to Boston harbor.

'War On Poverty' Enters 2nd Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's "war on poverty" enters its second year today, under investigation by Congress and the target of some criticism, but, with its chiefs convinced they are making progress.

There have been charges of poor administration from both Democrats and Republicans. There have been congressional suggestions that Sargent Shriver, the anti-poverty commander, step out as Peace Corps director and give full time to running the Office of Economic Opportunity.

But Shriver and other top OEO officials appear confident. They say they had expected even more criticism because of the scope of anti-poverty efforts and their new approaches to the poverty problem.

VISTA To Expand
Despite a riot Aug. 20 at the Camp Breckinridge, Ky., Job Corps center, officials say they feel they have solved their most serious administrative problems and are turning their major efforts to finding jobs for graduates.

And VISTA — Volunteers-in-Service-to-America — better known as the domestic peace corps, recently announced an expansion program and said it was further advanced now than the Peace Corps was at the same stage developments.

President Johnson signed legislation appropriating $793 million to the anti-poverty programs a year ago today, but nothing much happened for another month.

House Begins Inspection
Now, however, things have been moving so fast that Shriver recently cautioned that the programs soon will begin leveling off. To some, he said, this might appear to be a slowdown.

Shriver brushes aside criticism of confusion and high personnel turnover. It was the same way at the Peace Corps, he says. "We had 150 per cent turnover the first two years at the Peace Corps."

The GOP task force on economic opportunity has been a frequent critic of Shriver.

The House Education and Labor Committee, meanwhile, has begun a nationwide inspection of some anti-poverty projects. The chairman, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., has named a special staff to conduct hearings, and this week, Rep. Roman Pucinski, D-Ill., opened hearings on the anti-poverty situation in Washington.

Statistical Report

OEO officials sum up their first year this way, statistically:

— Community action programs, ranging from classes to teach migrant workers how to handle their money to dissemination of birth control information, more than 1,100 grants totaling $218,520,599 in more than 1,000 cities and counties in all 50 states.

— Head Start, a preschool program for children, more than 560,000 children in 13,344 child development centers in all 50 states at a cost of $82,697,391.

— Job Corps, designed to take school dropouts and prepare them for a return to school or jobs, nearly 13,000 — some 11,500 men and 1,300 women — in 66 centers at a cost of $238 million.

Dinner To Raise Funds For Hoffa Is Cancelled

DETROIT (AP) — An Oct. 17 dinner to raise funds for the legal defense of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa was cancelled Thursday because of possible prosecution.

Mrs. Myra Wolfgang, chairman of the Hoffa Defense Fund and secretary-treasurer of Local 705, Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union, and the action was taken on advice of legal counsel "for fear some of those participating might become unwittingly involved in an alleged violation of law and might be subjected to minimal prosecution under a malicious interpretation of the provisions of Section 302 of the Taft-Hartley Act."

The group, along with several others around the nation, had hoped to raise money for Hoffa, who is appealing two federal convictions.

Vernon Gomez

Teachers To Hear Gomez

IRON MOUNTAIN—Vernon Gomez, baseball's good humor man and all-time great of the sport, will be one of the three principal speakers at the Upper Peninsula region Michigan Education Association convention to be held in Iron Mountain and Kingsford on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 14-15.

Upwards of 2,500 U. P. teachers are expected to attend the two-day conference with meetings at both high schools here, the Dickinson county armory in Kingsford and the Dickinson hotel.

Gomez, former ace pitcher for the New York Yankees, will speak at the third general session of the convention at 11 a. m. Friday, Oct. 15, at the Armory. The topic of humorist Gomez will be "Keep Your Eye on The Ball."

Two other general sessions are scheduled for Thursday morning and afternoon at the Armory with outstanding speakers. During the two-day convention, there also will be some 50 group meetings.

Gomez was born in California on Nov. 26, 1910. His droll wit is of Irish and Spanish origin. "Lefty," or "Goofy," if you prefer, pitched for 12 years (1931-1942) with one of the country's greatest baseball teams—the New York Yankees—who won seven pennants and six World Series during this period. In his best season—1934—he led the league in shutouts, strikeouts, completed games, innings pitched, wins and percentage.

Fruit Destroyed
Osborne said some 70,000 to 80,000 cases of canned fruit were destroyed when the roof of the warehouse section of the plant collapsed. The fire also damaged the cooking facilities of the plant itself and the office. The blaze, which destroyed the warehouse built in the early 1920s, broke out anew after it was thought contained. Firemen said it slipped through a fire wall into the cooking room where fresh fruit is processed for canning.

The fire broke out in a loft area used for storage and quickly spread through the wood warehouse area. A one hundred foot section of the building's wall collapsed endangering eight firemen and the roof fell in before the blaze was finally brought under control by Fennville and firemen from six neighboring communities.

Fire Destroys Canning Plant

FENNVILLE (AP)—A smoldering fire whose smoke could be seen for eight miles drove 200 persons from the Michigan Fruit Canners facilities here Thursday and caused "hundreds of thousands of dollars" in damage.

No one was injured by the blaze whose cause was not immediately determined.

Frank Osborne, a company spokesman, said the flames caused "hundreds of thousands of dollars" in damage but could not give an exact dollar figure immediately.

Slayer Freed

DETROIT (AP) — Ike Ewell, 38, who had served 10 years of a life sentence for the slaying of a Hamtramck appliance store owner, was freed Thursday by Wayne County Circuit Judge Thomas J. Murphy, following a new trial. Murphy gave Ewell a suspended 7½ to 15 year sentence. Ewell pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter for the slaying of Charles L. Chinn on May 28, 1955. Ewell was granted a new trial when the court ruled his 1955 confession was inadmissible as evidence under recent high court decisions.
